

◆◆ The full-color, critically acclaimed webcomic about ◆◆ a competition for apprentice magicians and their animal familiars!

The competition to become the new city Representative—a magician who protects the people from monstrous husks—is fierce. Eight young apprentices and their animal familiars are vying for the role, while corrupt officials work to ensure their favored contestants succeed. Lucy Marlowe is a non-binary apprentice who wants the job more than anything, but being Representative isn't all it's cracked up to be... This first graphic novel of the Hiveworks webcomic by American artist Taylor Robin is bringing its rich magic and character drama to bookstores across the globe.
