

*Bittersweet romance and parallel worlds:
two novels, two films, one multiverse.*

To Every You I've Loved Before: In a world where people regularly travel between parallel universes, Takasaki Koyomi lives with his mother after his parents' divorce. His classmate Takigawa Kazune seeks him out one day, claiming that she's from a world where they are in love...but what if he's actually the one from another world?

To Me, The One Who Loved You: After his parents' divorce, Hidaka lives with his father. He falls in love with a girl named Satou Shiori—but their parents are getting remarried to each other. Is there a parallel world out there where these star-crossed lovers can be together...?

KEY SELLING POINTS:

- SIMULTANEOUS PUBLISHING: These novels are set in the same multiverse and will release on the same day. They are standalone complements to each other, and can be read in either order.
- SIMULTANEOUS MOVIES: Anime films for both books were released on Oct 7, 2022 in Japan.
- FOR FANS OF: Your Name, orange, HELLO WORLD
